

Welcome Macario!

Post by “Macario” of July 22, 2021 at 1:36 PM

Hello Cassius and everyone! To tell you a little bit about my studies on Epicurus, I'm pretty much a beginner. I've been studying for a while now the canon and history of ancient western philosophy and I now hold a particularly strong personal interest in Epicurean philosophy, not only for mere knowledge but also for practical application in my personal life. I found out about this forum while reading a book containing the translation of the three letters where the translator cited this forum as a useful source of information. I've been using it since then, for consulting. Now I intend to take my studies on Epicurus to a higher level.
Thanks for the welcome message!