It is with great pleasure that I post this link to a new presentation by Christos Yapijakis, founder and leader of the Athens Garden of Epicurus, entitled "Epicurean Philosophy, Modern Science, and Life." Not only is the article/presentation extremely interesting, but the question and answer session afterwards contains fascinating exchanges with Christos defending Epicurean philosophy against challenges from several quarters. Thanks to Christos for letting us know about this article and giving his permission for us to feature it here! The presentation is here.
