

Joshua's "Only The Beginning" Observation

Post by "Cassius" of January 11, 2022 at 9:26 AM

Quote from smoothiekiwi

I simply don't believe in the fact that I can unfold my human potential at 47. What if I die before that? My life wouldn't be fulfilled, I wouldn't have had a good life because I couldn't reach my potential? That sounds really stupid to me.

Your post contains lots of interesting and good points, and I want to call this one out as especially good. I like the way you think!

And YOLO means "You Only Live Once" (which implies seize the day / make the best of it) 😊