

Cultivation of Friendship within Epicureanism

Well, then I might add something as well 😊

I'm currently a student, thus I probably am in a different situation than y'all. Still, I took the 20th as a possibility to meet up with my friends- we simply plan to get into a cafe, talk for an hour or so and then get back to business. Great way to celebrate the 20th, get a bit of pleasure (and cake!) and strengthen friendship.

I honestly think that sometimes, we only need an "impulse" to get rolling and meet up with people we value. And, to be honest, the 20th can be a great impulse just for that!
