

July 6th, 2022 -- Epicurean Philosophy Zoom Gathering

A screenshot of a Facebook post from Cassius Amicus, an administrator. The post is about a Zoom discussion on Wednesday, July 6th, at 8:30pm ET. It includes two paragraphs of text from Epicurus's works, PD13 and PD14, set against a background image of a sunset over the ocean. The text is white on a dark blue background.

Cassius Amicus
Admin · Just now · 🌐

Tomorrow night is our next regular Wednesday Epicurean zoom discussion. The link for this and future sessions will be distributed only to those who register beforehand, so please go to the Eventbrite page and follow the instructions for the new link: <https://www.eventbrite.com/.../epicurean-philosophy-zoom...>

If you have any trouble feel free to send me a private message here at Facebook.

Zoom Discussion: Wednesday July 6th, 8:30pm ET

PD13. There is no profit in securing protection in relation to men, if things above, and things beneath the earth, and indeed all in the boundless universe, remain matters of suspicion.

PD14. The most unalloyed source of protection from men, which is secured to some extent by a certain force of expulsion, is in fact the immunity which results from a quiet life, and retirement from the world.