

Sculptures Damaged at the Vatican

Post by "Joshua" of October 7, 2022 at 11:08 PM

Image not found or type unknown

A Disgruntled Tourist Smashed Two 2,000-Year-Old Statues in the Vatican Because He Was Denied a Meeting With Pope Francis | Artnet News

The two damaged artworks from the Chiaramonti Museum were described as "minor works" and are now at a conservation laboratory news.artnet.com

The sculptures were described as 'minor works', whatever that means--they were two thousand years old. It has not been reported which two were broken.