

Illustrating Epicurean Ethics

Post by “Cassius” of January 22, 2023 at 5:58 PM

Quote from Don

Ask this question of every desire: what will happen to me if the object of desire is achieved, and what if not?

Yes it seems to me every time we do one of these analyses, that needs to be included, to emphasize that it is a subjective decision on what is or is not worth it to us.

Is that perhaps an echo of some of those O Henry stories (the gift?). Maybe I now interpret that differently than I used to