

Has the meaning of friendship changed since the times of Epicurus

Post by "Cassius" of February 2, 2023 at 11:14 AM

You know, even in a shared community (monks in a monastery) there are no doubt degrees of "friendship." You can have all the shared values in the world and still in the end not "click" with someone. So I would think that aspect of friendship would have to be considered in these discussions too.