I'm curious what y'all think about this question, "What place do games have in Epicurean philosophy?"

1. Do they give you pleasure?
2. Are they harming you in any way?
3. Do they do harm to others?

Answer those three questions about games and you're well on your way to answering your question.

It also sounds like you and your friends enjoy them together. Another plus.

That's my take.
