The question remains...what would a philosopher/teacher wear?

I would say that differs according to how ascetic they were, and since I personally don't think Epicurus was into asceticism, I'd be surprised if he didn't have a varying wardrobe.

Seems I remember that Frances Wright took one of the Cynics to task for his dress in "A Few Days In Athens" but I don't recall her talking about color Epicurus wore. Maybe it's in the first chapter that I skip through quickly because it's a little too "flowery" for my taste. 😊
