and don't find a forum like this one to be obtrusive.

I think that's the big difference of a forum compared to all other social medias like X, Facebook, Instagram and TikTok. They are all obtrusive not only from a privacy perspective, but also because their goal is to keep you on their platform. The constant feed of posts keeps you glued to the app, wasting away time that could be better spent doing more productive — and, for me, pleasurable — things.
