

VS14 - My Take on VS14

Post by "Bryan" of May 27, 2024 at 2:36 AM

It looks like the γεγοναμεν is taken from Plutarch, Non Posse, 27, 1104E: Ἦι καὶ προεπισφάττουσιν οἱ ταυτὶ λέγοντες " Ἄπαξ ἄνθρωποι γεγοναμεν - δις δ' οὐκ ἔστι γενέσθαι, δεῖ δὲ τὸν αἰῶνα μηκέτ' εἶναι."

"About which also those who say these things predict in advance: 'once we humans have been born - twice it is not possible to be born, it is necessary to no longer exist for eternity.'"

Κύριος is apparently taken from Stobaeus, Florilegium 16.28 -- but I have not been able to find that section in the Florilegium yet, if by chance you are able to locate it, that would be excellent.

2. κύριος may be supplied with certainty from Stobaeus.