

Henry St. John, Lord Viscount Bolingbroke

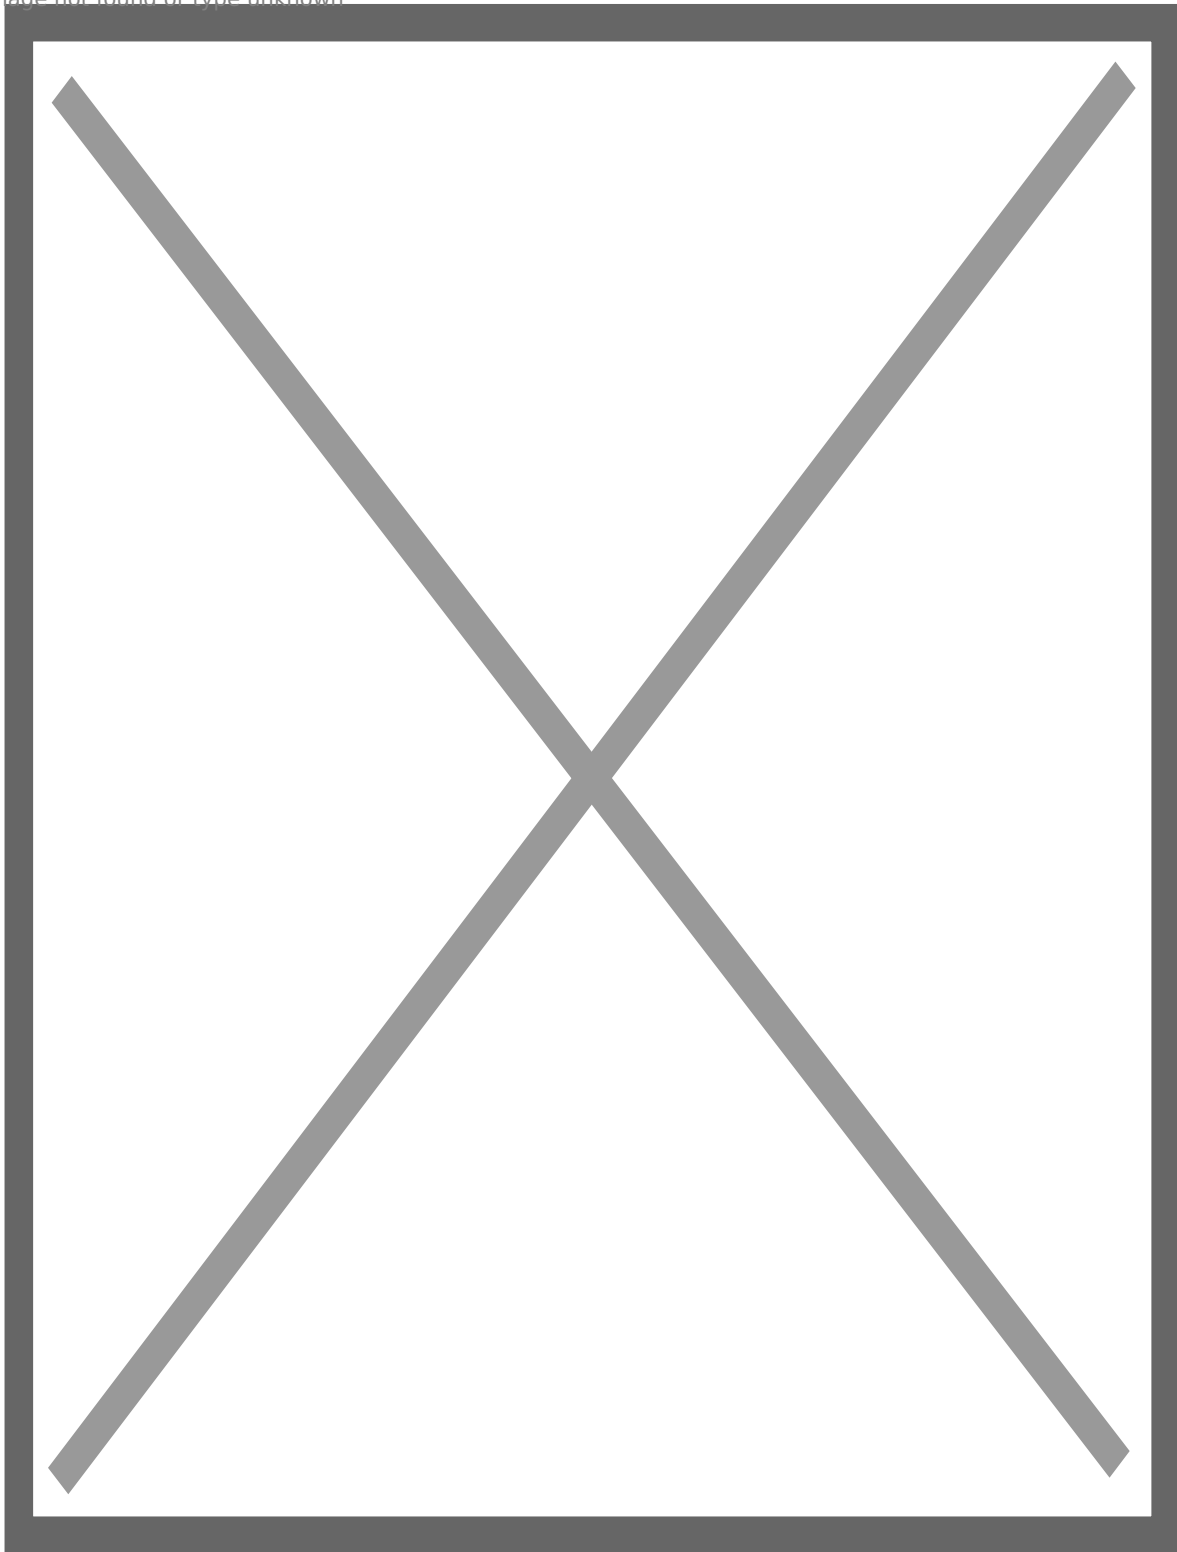

Post by “Kalosyni” of February 12, 2025 at 2:37 PM

As I was listening to an audio recording of "Thomas Jefferson and His Time" by Dumas Malone, it mentioned Lord Bolingbroke, and that Jefferson had written this into his notebook:

"No hypothesis ought to be maintained if a single phenomenon stands in direct opposition to it."

The Philosophical Works of the Late Right Honorable Henry St. John, Lord Viscount Bolingbroke - Wythepedia: The George Wythe Encyclopedia

Image not found or type unknown

Henry St John, 1st Viscount Bolingbroke - Wikipedia
en.m.wikipedia.org