

Prolepsis and the Epicurean Gods (discussion split from earlier thread started by Titus)

Post by “Cassius” of June 15, 2026 at 8:16 AM

On each of these points I agree with Titus and completely see it differently from Tau Phi. We are not talking idealism, we are talking about recognizing scales of measure just as we would see longer living as better than shorter living. There's no specific definition of how long is ultimate outside of a context, but we can still recognize some attributes as better than others.