The screenshot shows a news article from the website 'living senigallia'. The article title is 'The Epicurean Festival is getting closer: here's all the guests'. The article is dated 01/07/2020. The text mentions that the festival is going to take place in Pascoli School's Gardens from July 23rd to 25th. It also mentions that on the occasion, they will have the chance to meet many different guests who are experts both of the Epicurean philosophy and the human spirit. The article is written by Angela Lombardo, the author of the book 'Vita dolce', 15 Epicurean tips to follow for a happy life, attempting to lead their readers towards a positive change.
