

Virtual Archeological Tours

Post by “Don” of July 11, 2020 at 8:49 PM

I was digging around online and it looks like the Villa is not open to the public. On the Villa's Wikipedia article's Talk page I found:

Quote

16. May 2012: Removed touristic advice "When the Ercolano site was visited on 29th April 2012 the Villa was closed with no indication of when it would reopen." I don't think the site is open for regular visits at all. It might only be possible to visit it by special appointments.

Would have been nice for at least a distant peak or a mention.

Looking forward though to watching the whole video. Even if no Villa visit, Philodemus and other Epicureans walked those streets!