

The Lamps are Going Out All Over the Imperium

Post by "Cassius" of October 15, 2020 at 9:01 PM

The "country estate" options sounds very attractive, but a big consideration would be the numbers of other Epicureans you could expect to find in each of the alternative destinations. I would like to think that in the actual time period that some of them did attempt to get together to see what could be done to "rally" an opposition.