

Ferguson: "Epicureanism Under the Roman Empire"

Post by "Cassius" of July 2, 2019 at 2:14 PM

ANRW II.36.4, pp. 1075-1107

Epicureanism under the Roman Empire
by Jean Ferguson, Birmingham revised and supplemented by Dorothea F. Thummes, Eisenmeier, Bonn

Contents

I. Introduction	2249
II. Epicureanism under the Republic	2261
1. Epicureanism in the Third and Second Centuries B.C.	2261
2. Epicureanism at the end of the Republic	2262
III. The Augustan Age	2263
1. Augustus and Epicureanism	2263
2. Epicurean "friends" of Augustus	2263
3. The Epicureanism of Maecenas	2263
4. The Epicureanism of Virgil	2263
5. The Epicureanism of Virgil's friends	2267
6. Seneca's Epicureanism	2268
7. Propertius and Tibullus	2270
8. Epicureanism in Vitruvius	2270
9. Medicine and Epicureanism	2271
10. Lucretius and Epicureanism	2271
11. Ovid and Epicureanism	2272
12. Summary of Epicureanism in the Augustan Age	2273
IV. The First Century A.D.	2273
1. Epicureanism and Judaism, and especially Philo of Alexandria	2273
2. Epicureanism, Christianity and the Writings of Paul	2273
3. Plutarch	2273
4. Other Epicureans of the First Century	2279
5. Seneca	2280
6. Stoicism and the vetta subterfuga dei patris	2283
7. Prop. 1.20, 1.11	2283
8. Other Latin Writers and Epicureanism	2283

Check out this link for a very detailed list of people relevant to Epicurean commentary in the

<https://www.bu.edu/ict/anrw/pub/II/36/ferguson.html>

I don't yet have a copy of this book so if anyone know anything about it or a source for it (especially in PDF) please let me know!