

Epicurean Emporium

Post by “Eikadistes” of January 25, 2025 at 10:35 PM

Greetings, all!

I'm centralizing some of the Epicurean art, merchandise, and related paraphernalia I've created in the Epicurean Emporium. My wife was previously hosting some of the material - including her historical portraits and digital illustrations - on Etsy and RedBubble, but we've made some changes, so it is now available through <https://twentiers-shop.fourthwall.com/>.

I'm still uploading things and organizing the navigation. It's a big bucket of products right now, but I'm working it out.

I'm also hosting a digital copy of The Hedonicon through the site. As I posted elsewhere, I jumped off of Musk and Zuckerberg's platforms, and I'd like to move away from Bezos' as much as possible, too, so I've ported e-book to this site. It's better, anyway. Amazon only pays the author/editor pennies for a cheap e-book or kindle file, and this site isn't quite as hungry. 🍌

I got a hat and the patches for my first round, but now I see there are even more items available! This is cool, thank you.

Thanks for the support, Bryan ! I'm glad you like it.

Definitely let me know if there's anything you'd like to see up there. 😊

The MEGA hats, honestly, give me pause even though I get the tongue in cheek aspect.
Is it possible or even desirable to get the piglet or SFOTSE or even a graphic Epicurus on a hat?

 I feel similarly about the hats.

I'd be very happy to add those designs! Thanks for asking. I will jump on that tonight.

The SFOTSE and leaping pig hats are great!
I may be pushing it, but are full-brim hat types a possibility?

Absolutely! I'll throw SFOTSE and the Leaping Pig on the full-brim style.
Thank you for asking.

That is awesome! I love the color.

I really want a copy of Dorandi's translation. I need Amazon to drop the price.
