First Monday Epicurean Philosophy Discussion Via Zoom

<http://www.epicureanfriends.com/thread/4270-february-3-2025-first-monday-epicurean-philosophy-discussion-zoom-agenda>

This month's discussion topic:

What place does love and romance

Coming up next Monday night is our First Monday Epicurean Philosophy Discussion - Via Zoom, at 8pm ET. We especially want to invite any new members to join in the discussion, as this meeting provides time for meet-and-greet.

Agenda:

- Greetings and introductions
- Discuss latest popular threads on the forum
- Discuss the topic of the evening

If you have not yet attended a First Monday but are interested, please post here to let us know (or send a private message to Cassius or myself). The Zoom link goes out by private message the day before the meeting.

Hope to see you there! 😊

On the topic of Valentine's Day...I was just reading about "Palentine's Day" and "Singles Awareness Day"...

Which brings up the idea of also adding in the topic of friendship.

So to broaden the upcoming First Monday night discussion, we could also add that in...and also this: "What place does "virtue" have in relationships and friendships...kindness, generosity, etc, etc.
