

Research Assistance Question - Cross-platform or Syncing E-Reading

Post by "Cassius" of May 3, 2021 at 8:33 PM

Thanks Joshua. I was not originally thinking of ebooks but that is definitely part of the picture. It is so much easier to read on those for long periods of time than a computer screen or smart phone.

I had a nook a while back and got some reasonable use out of it, but I tend to want to be able to make notes and save them in outlines, and for that the computer works best.

But definitely ebook readers have a place in this discussion and I need to update my research on those as well.