

Altruism

Post by “Don” of May 30, 2021 at 1:17 PM

Quote from Dubitator314

an Epicurean ethical action?

Another quick thought... I would be careful about that phrasing. If you're equating an "ethical action" with a "virtuous action", remember that virtue in Epicureanism is instrumental to pleasure and not an end in itself. Why do we practice virtuous acts? Because they bring us pleasure.

Okay, now I'll step back and let others chime in. 😊