Thanks Don for all the info and links. I'll look at the options.

You're welcome! As means of a disclaimer (since I appear to be talking to two lawyers 😊), I can't even see ancient Greek fluency from where I am, but I've learned enough and continue to learn to puzzle through the original texts. I find that quite pleasurable.

There are a lot of options out there now thanks to the internet. That's one positive of that technology 😊
