

Episode Eighty-Six - Typhoons and Whirlwinds

Post by "Don" of September 5, 2021 at 5:11 PM

Quote from Godfrey

You may have addressed this and I may have missed it, but I was intrigued by the similarity of "meteorology" and "meteor." Apparently Greek ta meteōra means "the celestial phenomena, things in heaven above," plural of meteōron, literally "thing high up."

Oh, and we did not bring that up since I'm not sure we were aware of it! Thanks for this, Godfrey !