

Criticisms of An Article Entitled "Epicurean Pleasure" (October 1, 2018)

Post by "Cassius" of October 3, 2018 at 6:21 AM

Yes I think so! Sex is definitely one of those activities that can be high risk, and therefore must be handled carefully. But no one who accepts pleasure as the goal of living, combined with the shortness of life and the eternity of death, and the pleasures of relationships that come from sex (not to mention the benefits of children!) is going to write it off completely as always prohibited.