

Should the Default Theme Of This Website For New Users Be Light Or Dark?

I like the dark theme-- I think partly because the contrast is better and less glare. I have read some studies that most younger people prefer dark text and light backgrounds but as we age it can be easier to have a dark background. Contrast sensitivity often decreases with age, and even mild cataracts can create more glare.

So... maybe part of the answer depends on the age group you think most new members will be in?
