

Participants' Epicurean Book and Artifact Collections

Post by "Bryan" of January 17, 2022 at 10:43 PM

That is great! Have we found "SFOTSE" being used in the Roman period? Seneca was popular, and it became a well known phrase. The Romans really DID make every common saying into an acronym, so perhaps even the use of the acronym is ancient. This pendant (<https://etsy.me/33JADwQ>) has the full, classic "Sic fac omnia tamquam spectet Epicurus." Thank you for sharing. SFOTSE!