

What holds me back from embracing EP

Post by “Don” of March 1, 2022 at 5:30 PM

Quote from Matt

We are equals, the shark and I.

In an absolute/objective perspective, no question. Totally agree.

From my relative/subjective perspective, I am much more important than the shark.

I am in awe of the universe and its complexity and my miniscule existence in it, and I can take pleasure in that contemplation.

In my choices and rejections, I operate as if I have importance... Because I do... to me.

In some ways, it echoes the Buddhist Two Truths as to absolute and relative existence.