This Wednesday the 25th of May will be the fourth Wednesday of the month, and in accord with our planning this would be the week that we talk about art and music and poetry. The way we described it at Eventbrite was:

-Fourth Wednesday of the Month - Sharing Epicurean Ideas In The Modern World - Discuss ideas for engagement with people who don't know Epicurean Philosophy but who might be open to discussing it.

Let's use this thread to make suggestions as to topics to include - which means if you have a suggestion and would like to talk about it, please post it here.
