Besain - I particularly thank you for the link to Hegel's summary of Epicurus. I have not read that before, and obviously it is very deep, so I will set up as separate thread where we can discuss it in detail into the future.

Thanks to @beasain for this link to a detailed presentation of Hegel's views on Epicurus. At the time I am posting this I have not read it, and I am sure there is much room here for both agreement and disagreement, but it is clearly an in-depth article and worth being listed here as reference into the future. Just in case it "goes away" I will paste the full article below too:
