Hi Im Phillip.

I had to google " who is the greatest poet of epicureanism".

Evidently I'm not that well studied on the fine details of epicureanism.

But I believe I understand the main point epicurus made.

The perspective I gained from epicurus is... the greatest pursuit of pleasure begins with relieving as much suffering as possible.

Ever since I found out who epicurus is...Ive made this my mission in life.

Im a minimalist, who consistently works to keep my life simple...at a manageable level and enjoy the things that truly matter like relationships, good food, and an occasional drink.

I hope thats enough for the the community.

Id love to make some like-minded friends.

Very few people even know who epicurus is, so it's not easy to make friends.

What does epicureanism mean to you?

I hope you all are having a wonderful day. Much love. 😊

Phillip
