

Lactantius-De Ira Dei

Post by “Matt” of January 12, 2019 at 7:32 AM

So basically it is a tendon repair. I had a running accident back in 2016 that caused me to have some nerve damage. Because the nerve never came back online it caused a tendon to cease functioning. So I waited a couple of years to see if it would and it didn't. So basically it is a rerouting of existing tendons in my ankle and foot. I had 2 nerve blocks that wore off the night after surgery and now I know what a bear trap feels like!