

Epicurean nautical references, allusions, and metaphors in the texts

Post by “Don” of August 25, 2022 at 8:53 PM

*search: shore*

book 1, card 238: ... of touch. And raiment, hung by surf-beat shore, grows moist, The same, spread out before the book 5, card 1: ... could he inflict on us Along the Atlantic shore and wastes of sea?- Where neither one of book 6, card 470: ... Besides, the clothes hung-out along the shore, When in they take the clinging moisture, prove

Do you know the line number of the "shores of light"? It doesn't seem to come up as a phrase in the Leonard translation on Perseus.