I agree with you Godfrey. I think the formula clearly has an Epicurean stamp on it. Whether or not Epicurus coined it himself.

It's not a “full” presentation of Epicureanism by any stretch. But it certainly functions as a brief reminder of the most basic beliefs.

I mean it's not like it's possible that it would endorse anything other than Epicureanism. The first two premises are drawn directly from the first two PD's!
