

Epicurus' Birthday 2023 - (The Most Comprehensive Picture Yet!)

Post by “Elli” of November 24, 2022 at 4:03 AM

I take as correct, the last desire of the Last Will of Epicurus in which he says that his birthday was on the 10th Gamelion. Why the 10th of Gamelion? Maybe, in Epicurus era, there was a big celebration to honor all hellenic gods. And 10th of Gamelion was a favourable date of the year for a boy to be born.

In the profile below, there is a post from the last year, in this post we read:

“Today (12 January), Hemera Hermou [Day of Hermes - Wednesday], beginning at sundown, will be the tenth day of the lunar month of Gamelion.

“The tenth is favourable for a male to be born; but, for a girl, the four of the mid-month.” - excerpt from Hesiod, Works and Days

The number ten is associated by the Pythagoreans to the Kosmos, as such today is a good day to honour All the Gods, especially the Gods of the celestial beings and Zeus, King of All”.

Below is the profile at FB as they're counting the days of the months according to Ancient Hellenic Counting.
