

Perspectives On "Proving" That Pleasure is "The Good"

Post by "Don" of December 21, 2022 at 2:19 PM

For anyone who's interested, here's a similar thread:

Thread

From The "Golden Mean" to the "Summum Bonum" - Useful or Deceptive Frames of Reference?

This discussion (split from here: What do you mean from the "Golden Mean" of Aristotle?) reminds me of two other recent things that have been in my mind:

(1) i was discussing with someone a new sort of 'self-help' book that the person was reading, which focuses on what I perceive to be psychological self-help techniques geared toward reaching goals. My comment was to ask whether that person had first identified their real goals, as it makes sense to me that it usually would be appropriate to...

Cassius

February 13, 2022 at 5:30 AM