There are 2 relevant concepts:

Pleasure (aka The Good, The End, Telos)
goods

If at all, where do you include the term "guide" in that division? Because I think Dia voluptas, dux vitae is sound basis for considering guide/leader as a key concept that may not clearly be included in either of those two, and meaning something more than lower-case good as one among many instrumentalities.

I'm not entirely clear what you mean by "guide". If you mean "pleasure is the guide", I can add that under the akas for pleasure.

If you mean something else, I don't think I would add it at all.

But where would you add it?

I want to keep concepts to a minimum. In general, but especially until we have agreement on these.
