

Perspectives On "Proving" That Pleasure is "The Good"

Post by "Todd" of December 22, 2022 at 6:21 PM

I guess the TL;DR version of that is:

If you say pleasure is a good, you have to provide a definition of good that doesn't use pleasure.

And because we're Epicureans, you have to do it without introducing new concepts that don't exist in nature. Or you at least have to provide definitions for your new concepts that meet that criteria.