Scene opens. Epicurus and Metrodorus out for a pleasant stroll.

A philosopher approaches.

Philosopher: Epicurus! What do you say is the greatest good?

Epicurus: I don't even know the meaning of good without reference to pleasure.

Epicurus turns to go.

Philosopher stands mouth-agape.

Metrodorus starts to say something.

Epicurus: Metrodorus! Let's go. We don't need to get into a debate over this.

Scene fades as Epicurus and Metrodorus continue on their walk. Philosopher left standing in road.
