

"Pleasure" and the opening line of Lucretius

Post by "Don" of January 11, 2023 at 3:54 PM

Quote from Kalosyni

Don looking at the above Latin Dictionary entry for "voluptas" -- it occurs to me that delight sounds like a mental pleasure, and where as plain old "pleasure" is in the body.

I guess you could say it's all bodily in some ways since the mind resides in the body?