THIS WEEK IN EPICUREAN PHILOSOPHY AT EPICUREANFRIENDS.COM - 02/23/19

 For several years ending in 2015, I published a weekly report on news from the world of Epicurean Philosophy. Since then, my home base has shifted to <https://www.epicureanfriends.com>, but not til tonight have I issued an updated newsletter. This brief message is a start in that direction. Copies of this post, will be stored in this thread for future reference.

 Tonight's newsletter is just a short post to get back in the newsletter swing and to test how to send them through the forum software. I hope this email finds you well, and that if you haven't visited EpicureanFriends.com lately, you will do so again soon.

 The last year has been a period of slow but measurable growth. We have over 100 subscribed members now at EpicureanFriends.com, and we're steadily building a base of people who don't see Facebook as the answer for the kind of dedicated community we really want to build. The real test of viability is that we have a small but steady core of people who are regularly checking in and participating, and our threads are quickly becoming longer and more substantive than those at Facebook. For a forum which doesn't show up well in Google and doesn't have dedicated advertising, that is a good start.

 These few comments are all I have for this first re-started newsletter. Thanks to all who participated at EpicureanFriends.com, and as always, if you have any comments, questions, or suggestions, please let us know at the forum.

Live Well!
