

"Living for Pleasure" Book Study Group - Starting April 30, 2023 - Via Zoom

Post by "Kalosyni" of March 31, 2023 at 3:10 PM

Hi Everyone,

We are starting up a new book study group on Emily Austin's book: "Living for Pleasure: an Epicurean Guide to Life" - via Zoom.

This is open to all forum members -- and -- it will be especially geared for newer members who are just starting out in their study of Epicurean philosophy.

Epicurean Philosophy Book Study Group - Via Zoom

living for pleasure

an epicurean guide to life

Emily A. Austin

Sundays - 8:30pm ET Starts April 30th
and runs for 6 weeks

Open to all forum members
sign up required

We will discuss four chapters per week
discussion questions provided

We will discuss 4 chapters per meeting which will take a total of 6 weeks (since there are 24 chapters).

<https://www.epicureanfriends.com/thread/2991-living-for-pleasure-book-study-group-starting-april-30-2023-via-zoom/?postID=23315#post23315>

This is a heads up so that you can purchase your book in time for the first meeting.

Here is the Amazon link (for ease of reference):

<https://www.amazon.com/Living-Pleasure-Epicurean-Guide-Guides/dp/0197558321>

Martin, Cassius, and myself will be facilitating discussion.

The first four chapters are:

1. Maybe We're Doing It Wrong
2. Epicureanism, the Original Cast
3. Happiness, Theirs and Ours
4. Natural Hedonism

Please let us know if you are interested in attending by posting here in this thread. 😊