

Seven Steps With Epicurus - A Slide Presentation

Thanks for the suggestions so far! That's what we are doing, always looking to fine tune.

The slide feature is rather neat and has a feature for adding 'notes' for each slide to assist in a presenter using the slides to give a talk. We can work on those too over time to allow for points that don't make it into the main outline.

And it's also easy to add hyperlinks .

So think of this one as more of a presentation aid in giving a talk, and an aid in thinking about what are the most important points to build out into longer presentations.
