

Porphyry - Letter to Marcella - "Vain Is the Word of the Philosopher..."

Post by "Don" of June 13, 2023 at 7:54 AM

Here's another from the letter to Marcella:

[U203]

Porphyry, Letter to Marcella, 29, p. 209, 1: But insofar as you are in want, it is through forgetfulness of your nature that you feel the want. For thereby you cause to yourself vain fears and desires.

There seem to be quite a few.