

PD06 - Best Translation of PDO6 to Feature at EpicureanFriends.com

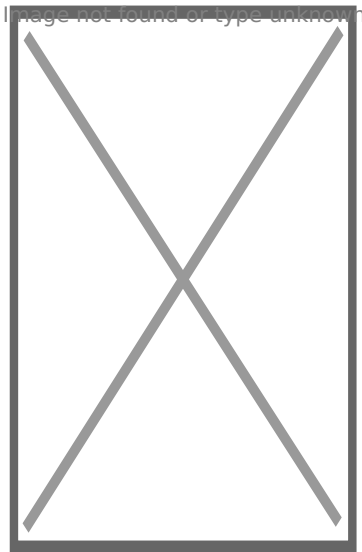

Post by "Don" of August 8, 2023 at 11:05 PM

Quote from Cassius

I have never had much fix on Usener because I have never been able to read any commentary by him that may exist, but I know I don't have a good feel about Bailey's discretion. But in this case we can't pin this on Bailey, correct? I wish we had more access to Usener's general thoughts on Epicurus to see if (or how) he made similar "this can't be right" comments.

Thank you again Don for all you do.

Usener's Epicurea is on Internet Archive....

Hermann Usener Epicurea \(1887\) : Hermann Usener \(editor\) : Free Download, Borrow, and Streaming : Internet Archive

Epicurea is a collection of texts, fragments and testimonies by Epicurus composed by Hermann Usener in 1887

archive.org

LOL! Granted in Latin but it's freely available to peruse.