

Let's Make a List of 1) Major Causes of the Decline of Epicurean Philosophy after Lucretius and 2) The Obstacles to its Revival Through Today

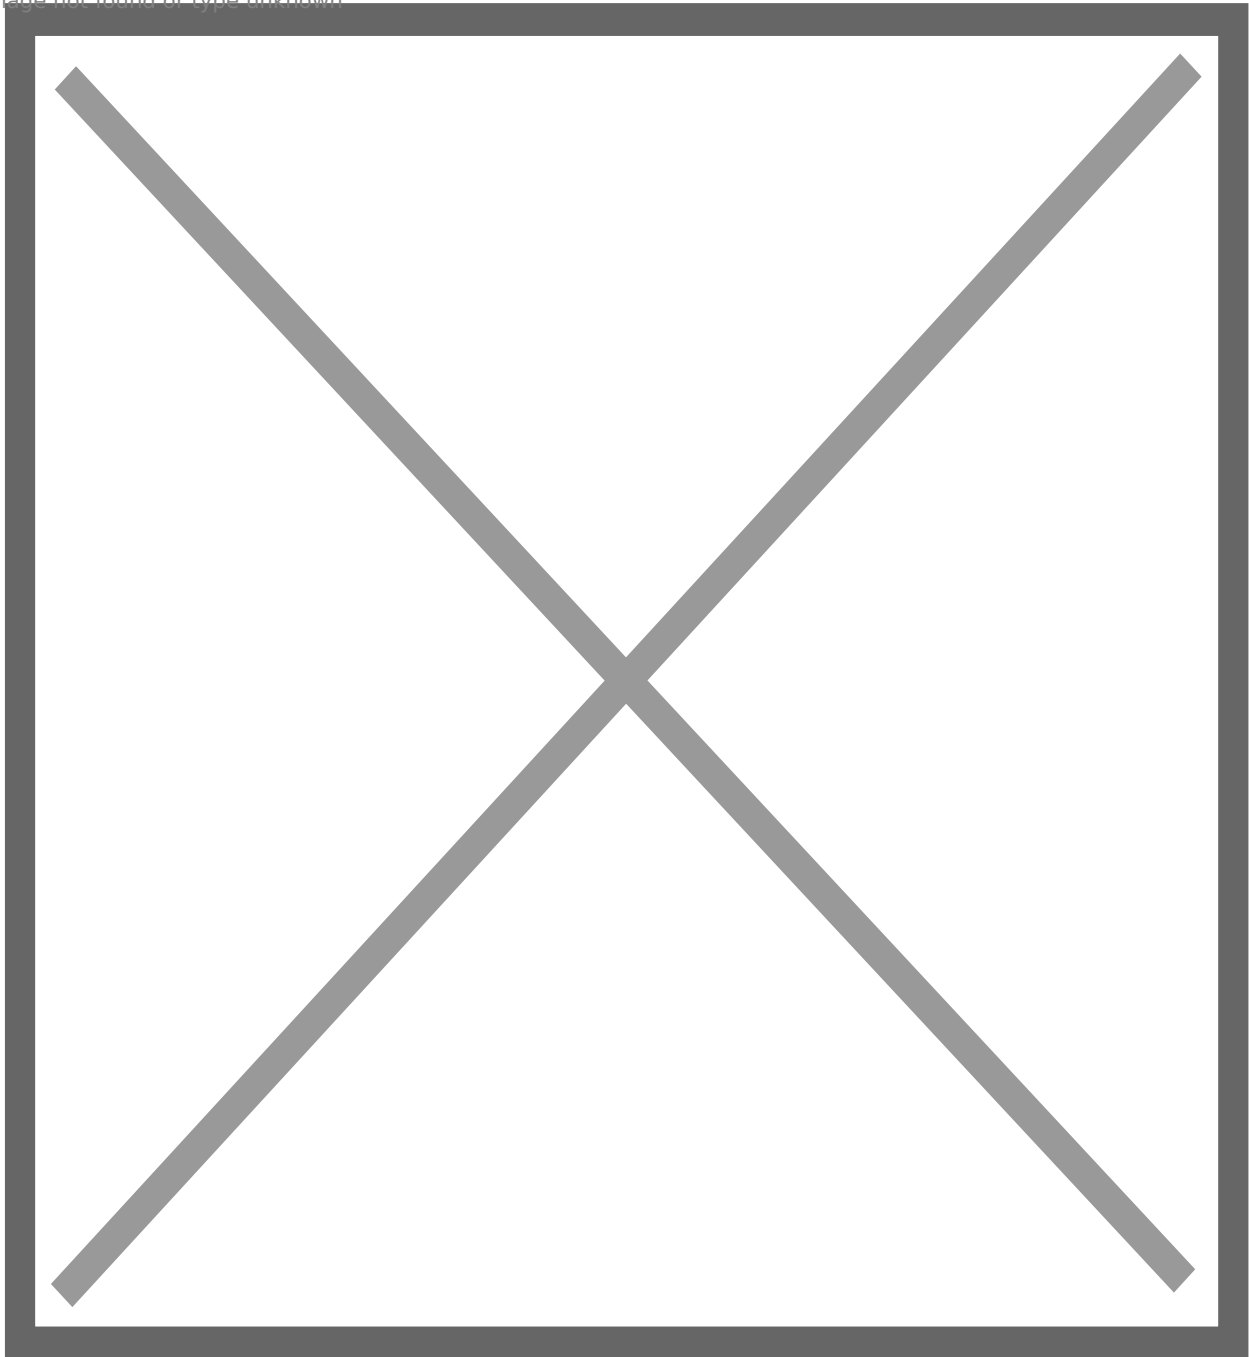

Post by “Kalosyni” of August 22, 2023 at 6:48 PM

Small things like the loss of manuscripts could have had an effect:

Quote

Though less famous than the purported burning of the Library of Alexandria, the great fire that tore through central Rome in 192 CE resulted in a similarly profound loss for ancient Greek and Roman scholarship. The true cost of this fire became clear to historians in 2005, when a text believed lost for centuries was unexpectedly rediscovered in a Greek monastery. Titled “On Consolation from Grief” and written in the aftermath of the blaze by Galen—court physician to several Roman emperors—the work does more than chronicle an unfortunate accident.

Image not found or type unknown

Library Fires Have Always Been Tragedies. Just Ask Galen. - JSTOR Daily

When Rome burned in 192 CE, the city's vibrant community of scholars was devastated. The physician Galen described the scale of the loss.

daily.jstor.org

<https://www.epicureanfriends.com/thread/3268-let-s-make-a-list-of-1-major-causes-of-the-decline-of-epicurean-philosophy-after/?postID=25644#post25644>