

Eudoxus of Cnidus was a large camel

Post by “Pacatus” of February 4, 2024 at 3:30 PM

Quote from Bryan

The only hint I have is that he quotes Eudoxus, who said "it is impossible to decide, if one hesitates (διστάσης) between two similar causes, whether this one or that is more responsible."

Using the metaphor of a two-humped bactrian camel?