

September 2, 2024 - First Monday Epicurean Philosophy Zoom Discussion - Agenda

Post by "Kalosyni" of September 1, 2024 at 3:44 PM

Hi Everyone! Tomorrow night is our First Monday Epicurean Philosophy Discussion...open to all forum members...let us know if you are new and want to come (and have not yet attended) and we will send the Zoom link to you by private message. (For everyone else the link is same as last month).

It seems that lately the subject of definitions has been much discussed...tomorrow night's discussion topic is: Can we label and define the foundational basis of Epicurean philosophy as "naturalism"? Why, why not, and the big "why in the first place" might we need (or want) to pin it down with both a label and an easy summary (yes, this should be easy to do 😊). Hope to see you there!

The poster features the EpicureanFriends.com logo at the top left, which includes a row of classical busts. To the right of the logo, the date and time are listed: "September 2, 2024" and "8pm ET". The main title is "First Monday Epicurean Philosophy Hour - Via Zoom". Below the title is a small illustration of a classical philosopher's bust surrounded by a globe, planets, and flowers. To the right of the illustration, a white box contains the text: "Meet-and-greet and discussion open to all forum members". Below this box, the topic is stated: "This month's topic: 'Naturalism'? Summing up and naming the foundational basis of the Epicurean worldview."
