

Looking for constructive feedback on my mostly Epicurean philosophy of life

Hi there! It's been a long time. 😊

I think I might have encountered you and your document on Vincent Cook's e-mail list years ago.

I have it in my favorites and check in now and then to see if you have any updates.

Like Cassius, I notice your document does diverge from Epicureanism in some respects, but overall, a good and thought provoking read. ("Death is harmful to one who dies"). Huh?

I notice I can't access it on Scrib anymore unless I sign up, which I'm not going to do. 😄 Oh well I got your Wordpress address.
