

Social Media Considered Anti-Epicurean: 101 Reasons Why

Post by “Cassius” of October 22, 2024 at 8:56 AM

I altered the thread title slightly to firm it up rather than say "considering," but I'm still not necessarily happy that "Social Media's Anti-Epicurean Aspects" is the ultimate title. Julia feel free to continue to adjust, especially with the goal of making it something that people are likely to find by searching. Given the content of the thread and the strong consensus I think most of us have that social media has major negative issues, I thought "considering" might not be strong enough.
